What is Astrology and Horoscope?

Horoscope is a systematic tabular representation of the planets in the zodiac based on the time and the place of birth. It reflects the future of a person with reference to his birth details. As each one have different details, horoscope so changes accordingly. Every horoscope is different and exclusive and therefore it possesses different traits and destiny.

Indian, Vedic, Western, Greek, Chinese and other systems are different in the way the birth chart is prepared and therefore, each system gives different interpretations and predictions.

Horoscope in Indian Astrology

System of Indian Astrology recognizes the heavenly bodies in our solar system only and considers rest of the constellations and galaxies as reference points in relation to the planets. The strength of the planets is judged based on the constellation they are moving against. The Indian system considers zodiac as elliptic rather than circular. Thus, each of the 12 houses is not 30 degrees but of varying degrees (according to time and date of birth). This makes horoscope of every individual different thus, bringing about accuracy.

Indian horoscope is found to be far more superior to that given by other systems. The predictions given by Indian horoscope is highly authentic (factual) and therefore, reliable.

Horoscope contains

A horoscope contains birth charts (diagrammatic representation of placements of planets), details of the same, predictions about future in fields like education, family, health, marriage, career, general events, up and downs of life and an analysis of characteristics. It also reveals the fact and details happening in our present as well as in our past life.

Why Indian Astrology

Indian astrology, the oldest system of astrology in the world differs considerably from the western system. Indian astrology uses the actual constellations of stars as seen in the sky. This system gives a completely different chart as compared to the one used by western astrologers.

Indian Astrology also differs considerably from the Chinese horoscope, which is based on the year of birth and believes that the year of birth indicates a certain phase or aspect of sixty year circle of time. Therefore you may find yourself born in the year of dog, horse or rat or even a dragon. Hence, people who are born in a particular animal year share certain common traits just like people born in common zodiac do.

Origin of Indian Astrology

Indian Astrology, originated in ancient Greek Civilization, defines the actual traits of an individual, marital compatibility and the future, based on the position of planets at the time and place of birth.

Authenticity of Indian Astrology

Indian astrology is believed to be the oldest system of astrology in the world. It is highly authentic and its predictions are believed to be the most accurate. Being based on the actual constellations of stars, this is the most widely used system of astrology across the world.

Western Astrology

According to the Western Astrology, there are nine main planets that influence the life of an individual. These are the planets which show the changes in life. With the movements occurring in the places of planets one can predict ones future.

Horary Astrology

Horary astrology is based on a chart that deals with specific questions. To answer the questions, this ancient astrology doesn't require details like date, place and time of birth, it instead answers the queries based on the time they were put to the astrologer. On the basis of the questions put forward, a chart is formed. This chart shows the details like - what is going on at present, how could the future be affected, etc. It, therefore, provides solutions for dealing with critical situations.

It helps one to predict the longevity, health, success or failure, love, time of marriage, divorce, result of examination, job, and gain by lottery or stock market, success in litigation & legacy etc.
